

Memphis Women Consider Problems of Homemakers

MISS MARGARET FORBES.

Saturday, the first day of spring, according to the calendar, must have put thoughts of spring cleaning into the minds of the housekeepers, for there seemed to be an epidemic of window polishing going on in Memphis.

With the shrubbery in the parks beginning to blossom and here and there a peach tree waving like a pink cloud in a rather stiff breeze, from which winter was reluctantly taking leave, the thoughts of Memphis women very naturally turned to freshening their homes and repelling old, worn-out articles with new ones.

Right in line with that thought comes the announcement of a unique exhibition planned by members of the department of art of the Nineteenth Century club, for the last two days in the month of March. It is the intention of the club to make a home of a house, in several rooms, where the women of the various women's organizations of the city will be invited to inspect on March 29 and 30.

This is not the only happy inspiration of members of the Nineteenth Century club. At a recent meeting of the executive board, over which Mrs. Roscoe Browne, who was then acting president, presided, a movement was launched to invest in and repel old and worn-out articles with new ones.

Like so many excellent ideas and plans introduced by the Nineteenth Century club, the movement has grown until it is no longer a club plan, but a city-wide movement, which will perhaps solve one of the greatest problems of the day. It is a movement which gives every indication of doing.

Many of the other organizations have held informal meetings to discuss the movement and several of them, including the Woman's Central committee, which is composed of representatives of various women's organizations, asked to be present at the called meeting of the executive board of the Nineteenth Century club over which Mrs. R. L. Jordan, acting president, presided on Saturday morning.

Not only the matrons, but many of the debutantes have expressed their willingness to enter into any plan which the Nineteenth Century club may think advisable and many business men have also agreed to their hearty cooperation. The old adage, "Never put off until tomorrow what can be done today," has been turned around by Mrs. Jordan, acting president of the club, who probably agrees with another adage that "It's a poor rule that will not work both ways."

She suggested as the slogan for the campaign against high prices, "Buy to-morrow, Mrs. Jordan thinks that if women will deny themselves the pleasure of buying the things they want, but do not really need, for awhile, it will bring about the desired result and relieve in a measure the great grief of homemakers, which prevails all over the world."

Club Women Strive For Artistic Effects and Reasonable Prices

Mrs. F. T. Hindman.

The women of the department of art of the Nineteenth Century club, which will be held by members of the department of art of the Nineteenth Century club on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 30-31, Mrs. Hindman has made a special study of interior decorations and with her capable assistance some very artistic results are anticipated.

statement that every church member should be a subscriber to at least one church paper. The opportunity to subscribe will be given at the Sunday school market, which will be held on Saturday, March 27, at Cavalry parish house.

Many Reservations Assure Success of Benefit Affair

Among the first events of the season will be the card party which will be given by Les Passes on Wednesday afternoon, April 7, at the Nineteenth Century club. Through planned primarily as a benefit entertainment, the affair promises to be one of the most brilliant of the after Easter social affairs.

Some of the loveliest members of the younger married set are included in the membership and their friends have been so interested in the success of this initial effort, that every table has already been taken and they have been forced to make room for even a few extra ones. Though not all of those who have taken tables will be present, they will be represented by some of their friends and the great list will run well over 400. There will be a beautiful prize for the winner of each table and bridge will, of course, be the diversion of the afternoon.

The guests will be received by the officers of Les Passes, Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, Mrs. W. T. Overton and Mrs. Perry H. Wood, who will be assisted by Mrs. Daniel Grant, president of the Memphis Art association, and Mrs. Hugh Humphreys, of the board of managers of the Memphis Art association. These two organizations sharing in the proceeds of the affair.

Those who have taken tables for the affair are: Mrs. H. H. Jones, Thomas Campbell, Jack Barragh, Will Britton, Hugh Hayley, John D. Martin, L. K. Saltsbury, Sam Phillips, Giles Bond, C. E. Wessels, Shields Abernathy, W. T. Overton, Percy Wood, W. W. Mitchell, Lucius McChesney, Edgar Tate, W. D. Cannon, Charles Ransom, Lamar Heist, C. R. Haines, George W. W. W. SUNDAY MORNING WEDDING OF TALENTED YOUNG JOURNALISTS.

A marriage that will be of great interest to many friends throughout the South is that of Miss Ida Wharton Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Menden and the late Prof. Wm. A. Smith, who will be solemnized on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's mother, 1600 Madison avenue.

Mrs. Hammond W. Mynders has been chosen as matron of honor, while Misses Anna Watson and Frances Hall will be the maids of honor and bridesmaids.

Mr. Alfred D. Mynders will serve as best man.

A program of beautiful nuptial music will be rendered by Mr. Arthur Cortese.

Miss Mynders, besides a charming personality and lovable disposition, possesses a brilliant and scholarly education, having been a member of the West Tennessee Normal school, where she was in charge at the time of his death.

Mr. Penn, who is also a member of a prominent family, his father being a physician who is well known throughout the state, is a graduate of the University of Arkansas and a popular member of the S. A. E. fraternity. He is now on the editorial staff of The News-Scimitar.

Mr. and Mrs. Penn will leave immediately after the ceremony for a short bridal trip.

Entertainments

Mrs. Fendegast Entertains.

Mrs. William Fendegast entertained delightfully at cards on Saturday afternoon at her home, 1010 N. Main, where Miss Mildred Toward, whose marriage to Mr. J. J. Thornton will take place early in April.

The rooms thrown open for the afternoon were prettily decorated in red, white and blue, and an interesting feature was a large red heart filled with miscellaneous gifts, which were showered upon the guests.

At the conclusion of the afternoon a delicious three course menu, in which the red color motif and the heart idea were carried out, was served to the guests, including among them, were members of the bridal party, twelve in all.

On next Saturday afternoon Misses Julia Young and Eleanor Robinson will entertain in honor of Miss Toland.

Cotillion Club Plans Ball.

Members of the Girls' Cotillion club have definitely decided on Friday evening, April 18, as the date of their next large social affair, which is being eagerly looked forward to by members of the club. The exact nature of the affair has not yet been decided upon, but several unique features will be introduced.

Leap Year Ball at Temple.

Invitations have been issued by members of the Al Chymia Temple A. A. O. N. M. S. for a Leap Year ball to be given on Thursday evening, at the Masonic temple.

Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock.

Miss Margaret Miller entertained on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Madison avenue, in honor of Miss Mildred Toward, whose marriage to Mr. J. J. Thornton will take place on April 3.

Luncheon and Box Party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brower entertained on Saturday afternoon with a luncheon in their home on Vinton avenue followed with a box party at the Orleans theatre.

The color scheme of yellow and green was carried out in the floral decorations of yellow jonquils and ferns, while small and large chickens, rabbits, eggs, dainty yellow baskets filled with eggs of every hue, with tiny crystal candle holders with yellow candles, formed a perfect setting for the happy guests.

The guests were: Misses Caroline Bourne, Kathryn Harwood, Florrie Liles, Mary Louise, Gladys Richman, Richman, Carolyn Lang, Sarah Stark and Janie Ellis.

MRS. F. T. HINDMAN.

Engagements

Fury-Nick.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Fury announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Fury, to Mr. Nick Fury, of Greenville, Miss., the wedding to take place at Sacred Heart church the latter part of April.

CLUBDOM

TO CREATE GREATER INTEREST.

To create greater interest in artistic home furnishings the members of the Nineteenth Century club's department of art, of which Mrs. Fendegast is chairman, Mrs. Daniel Grant and Mrs. Milton Hunt, vice-chairmen, have planned a novel exhibition for March 30 and 31. The spacious auditorium of the club will be transformed for the occasion into a modern and perfectly furnished home, in which there is no inartistic note.

There will be a special showcase for each room in this home and she will be able to answer any questions the guests may ask.

Mr. F. T. Hindman, who has recently come from Philadelphia to make her home in Memphis and is particularly interested in artistic home furnishings, and drawn the plan for the various rooms, and will assist in the selection and arrangement of the furnishings.

Those in charge have received the hearty co-operation of furniture dealers, jewelers and others, who have consented to lend from their stocks for the furnishing of the rooms.

Among the rooms included in the exhibition will be a reception hall, with Mrs. Abbe Goodman as hostess; living room, with Mrs. Walter Lane Smith as hostess; dining room, with Mrs. B. F. Turner as hostess; breakfast room, with Mrs. Thomas Sherron as hostess; adult bedroom, with Mrs. Thomas Walker as hostess; and several children's rooms, with Mrs. C. J. Washington as hostess.

The chairman and vice-chairmen will serve as general hostesses and will receive the guests.

It is probable that there will be talks by several women who have made a study of home furnishings, but that feature has not yet been decided upon. Special attention will be called to new and artistic rugs of good design, lamp and silverware. Besides the usual furnishings, there will also be arrangements for suitable paintings of good prints.

The exhibition promises to be one of the most interesting features introduced at the Nineteenth Century club this season, and is being eagerly anticipated.

An invitation to attend the exhibition, which is entirely free, will be extended to all of the women's clubs of the city, the Parent-Teacher association and women's patriotic organizations.

DR. FINESHERBER WILL TALK TO CURRENT TOPICS CLASS.

The current topics class of the Nineteenth Century club will meet on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. Douglas Darnley presiding as chairman for the day. Dr. William H. Finesherber will address the members on "The Problem of the Immigrant."

An invitation to be present has been extended to all the members of the club.

A special pleasure in store for the members will be the presence at the meeting of their chairman, Mrs. Mary L. Beecher, who has returned after many months' absence.

Weddings

White-Herring.

One of the prettiest of the early spring weddings took place at Allens, Tenn., Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. C. R. White gave his bride, Elizabeth, in marriage to Mr. John Franklin Herring.

The little church at Allens was beautifully decorated in pink, ivy and pink roses arranged in wicker stands. The bride party stood grouped before the archway, twined in the roses and ivy, while the ceremony was being read by the Rev. L. L. Atwood.

The soft strains of "Tramers" were played during the ceremony, just preceding which Miss Isabel Williams, of Bensenville, sang "At Dawning."

The sweetest "Story Ever Told," accompanied by Miss Lyde Willford.

The bride made a beautiful picture of young womanhood in her wedding dress of ivory satin with a tulle veil, caught with valley lilies, and carrying an exquisite bouquet of roses, lilies and ferns. She was attended by Miss Mattie Herring, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and Miss Martha Willford and Miss Mary White as bridesmaids, and little Jane Jacobs as flower girl, all of whom wore pink gowns in pastel shades, and carried bouquets of pink and lavender sweet-peas.

Mr. Edwin Trotter Herring attended his brother as best man, and the groomsmen were Mr. T. O. Lee, Jr., and Mr. Seldon Herring, while Mr. C. W. Jacobs and Mr. W. L. Roels served as ushers.

A host of friends thronged the little church, later attending the reception given at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. H. Herring, and had the pleasure of viewing the many beautiful wedding gifts.

Lodge-Roth.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Lodge, of Farklin, Ark., announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia, to Dr. Edward T. Roth, of Detroit, Mich.

Dr. and Mrs. Roth are now in New York City and will visit other eastern points before returning about April 1 to Detroit, Mich.

Memphis Leads In Recruits For Navy

Memphis led the state in recruits for the United States navy for the week ending Friday, March 19, according to official notification received at headquarters Saturday.

Eight applicants were accepted from Memphis, six for Nashville and three for Chattanooga, the nearest rivals.

Recruiting headquarters has been authorized to forward firemen third class to the school for machine gunners. Information has been received of the rapid progress being made by the land and the baseball team of the Tennessee, at present in training. Both will make a tour of the state in May and the baseball club will play local amateur organizations.

AWARDED $1

A verdict of $1 and costs of court was awarded Mrs. N. T. Sharp in a suit for $10,000 damages against J. M. Cooper, Isadore Cooper and Esther Cooper, alleging malicious prosecution. Mrs. Sharp was arrested and indicted under the instance of the Cooper following a dispute over a chicken belonging to the Coopers. Mrs. Sharp was acquitted in criminal court and shortly afterward filed a damage suit for malicious prosecution.

A jury returned a verdict awarding damages of $1 for Mrs. Sharp, late P. day.
